

Deeds for Needs

Bringing more sunshine into the world

Deeds for Needs streamlines the volunteering process, offering a single platform for both organizations and interested helpers to seek out opportunities that best fit their unique interests and needs. We connect University of Wisconsin-Madison students with local charitable groups that best suit them, ensuring that people are serving organizations that match their personal values and passions, creating a mutually beneficial relationship for all

We're different

We operate according to the specific needs of every unique individual and charitable organization, working to inspire users to bring light to all people and communities they touch

Connection

Thoughtful work done on behalf of worthy organizations provides college students with a stress-free outlet that provides meaningful outcomes for them and the organizations they serve. We are the bridge that provides the necessary information on these opportunities and the means of finding the perfect fit

Single platform

Our service solves the current fragmented nature of the volunteer process. Instead of people independently searching for organizations to give back to, we provide a comprehensive list of all available opportunities in one convenient portal. Additionally, we level the playing field for organizations by giving equal standing to all, regardless of their level of notoriety or status as a national brand

Always here

We are always relevant. The inherent instinct to connect with others and give back when possible is rooted in human nature. Deeds for Needs helps you achieve one of life's fundamental purposes: living a happy, healthy, fulfilling life and sharing it with those around you
